

Gianelle Ariana S. Elizaga

Norwalk, CA / La Jolla, CA • +1-562-781-3727 • gianellea.elizaga@gmail.com

Education

---

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO

Bioengineering: Biotechnology

Academics & Honors: Regents Scholar, Provost Honors (Spring '25)

La Jolla, CA
Sept. 2024-June 2028

CERRITOS COLLEGE

GPA: 4.0

Relevant Coursework: Linear Algebra & Differential Equations

Norwalk, CA
May 2025-July 2025

SANTA FE HIGH SCHOOL

Academics & Honors: Weighted GPA: 4.44, AP Scholar with Distinction, Summa Cum Laude, Golden Seal of Merit, Principal's Honor Roll, Service Learning Medallion (150+ hours), NHS Member

Notable Coursework: AP Biology, AP Computer Science A, AP Calculus AB, AP Physics

Santa Fe Springs, CA
Aug. 2020-June 2024

Experience

---

Patient Care Volunteer

Scripps Memorial Hospital (Cardiac Treatment Center)

- Measure and record patient vital signs, including blood pressure, under nursing supervision.
- Assist nursing staff with administrative tasks such as copying documents and maintaining patient paperwork.
- Stock and organize clinical supplies to support efficient patient care delivery
- Interact with patients professionally and compassionately within a hospital setting.

La Jolla, CA
Oct. 2025 - Present

STEM Education & Outreach Volunteer

Columbia Memorial Space Center

- Assisted visitors with interactive exhibits, including the Robotics Lab and Parachute Launcher.
- Guided children through hands-on activities, explaining basic scientific and engineering concepts.
- Supported STEM outreach at the annual Rocket Fever event, helping students build model rockets and learn about space careers.

Downey, CA
July 2023 - April 2024

Student Mentor & Tutor

Santa Fe High School

- Provided academic support to incoming freshmen and high school students, helping with coursework and answering questions in math and other subjects.
- Checked student work for completion and accuracy, ensuring understanding before submission.
- Helped students develop foundational skills and study habits to promote long-term academic success.
- Gained experience in teaching and mentoring, improving communication and problem-solving skills.

Santa Fe Springs, CA
Aug. 2022 - May 2024
(Guided Studies), Summer 2023 (Math Tutoring)

University Projects

---

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Triton Neurotech: EMG Prosthetic <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Description: Currently designing an EMG-controlled prosthetic arm that translates muscle electrical signals into functional hand movement (clenching and unclenching). Analyzing muscle signal input to form prosthetic motion and user responsiveness, and planning the arm with emphasis on functionality and user-specific customization.</li><li>• Role: Project member (Hardware), contributed to the design of the EMG-controlled prosthetic arm and assisted in mechanical design decisions, including material selection and arm aesthetics.</li><li>• Technologies Used: Fusion 360</li></ul> | Oct. 2025 - Present |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|

Activities

---

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Medical Innovation Conference – MD/PhD Panel SubleadBiomedical Engineering Society at UCSD <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Description: Assist in organizing the MD/PhD panel at the Medical Innovation Conference, an annual event that connects undergraduates with leaders in academia and industry to explore diverse healthcare and biomedical career paths. Responsibilities include contacting potential panelists and coordinating logistics to ensure a successful event.</li><li>• Skills Developed: Professional communication and networking through outreach to professionals, event coordination, and team collaboration and leadership in planning a large-scale academic conference.</li></ul> | Oct. 2025 - Present |
| Pilipino Undergraduate Society for Health – MemberPUSH at UCSD <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Description: Participated in the Feeding San Diego volunteer event, supporting food distribution and community outreach. Selected to serve on the Health Summit Committee (2026) to assist in organizing the annual health summit, including contacting potential guest speakers and facilitating event operations.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Oct. 2025 - Present |

Additional

---

Language Skills: English (Fluent), Tagalog (Beginner)
Technical Skills: MATLAB
Hobbies: Hiking, origami, reading, and photography